Layout for Stretch at Empress Brings Slang Chief Higher in Batting Order After Sizing Up Dope—Some Show Sure.

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 16, 1914.

Dear Jim:

I gloomed me a roost on the Empress joy buss again last night, and grabbed off the big squint at the layout for the week. Cut in on this, cause I'm charged to the gills with the dope, on the big noise. It's another one of them four to one shots.

Came Abbott & Lewis for the first frame—a pair of warblers, and both of them got the swell set of pipes. Great stuff, had that medley of popular songs that they put over. It's longer than the hard luck story of a friend trying to pull the rush act. And just as classy. Pal, it's got the sleep juice sprinkled all over it. A

O. B. Wise, pipe the handle—a gink that slings the chalk, fires the second round. Here's a guy that's deep to the job. He's got the whole field cheated a country black, 'cause he hands them the double cross with the mitt stuff. Can you imagine a guy pulling the "oil painting" thing with a hunk of chalk in each duke. Like receiving a remittance from the parental domicile without the formality of the usual request.

Next they dealt me the hand that limmed up my dome for fair. Whittier & Crossman. That dude's got himself a line of joy gaff that booms up like a new booze foundry. And the doll with him? Goodnight nurse! I focused my lens for the big survey took one flash and right away there was a hurricane in the gullet. I fell for the infant gaze and the fade away pipes. You get me Steve. I'm sure the squirrel fodder when it comes to that. That dame grabbed me—but there ain't nothing to it. Keep your ear to the ground and you'll hear from that team on the one a day time some of these days.

The goodnight position is occupied by Toledo & Burton. Here's a riot when it comes to novelty, if the dope's on the square. The gink on this act is limber enough to wiggle out of a political argument and that's going some. You ought to get a flash at that. It's good for bum peepers. That guy can stand on his eye brow and eat soup out of his vest pocket. He's sure the human snake.

A bear of a movie line-up. They got a sure fire hit there with that Lubin two-reeler. It's a thriller. I'll chance it to be the big talk by tomorrow.

Well, Jim, me for the hay. Over the river, Pal.

So long.

DICK.

themselves. Besides invading Galicia, the Russians are now said to be operating extensively in Bukovina, the chief town of which, Czernowitz, they occupied some weeks ago. It is thought to be the intention of the Russians to go as far as possible south of the Carpathian mountains, and in case the allies are successful

Austrians Depressed

VIENNA, Sept. 15.—News of the Russian increasingly victorious occupation of eastern Galicia is exercising a depressing influence in Austro-Hungarian official circles and among the more intelligent classes of the monarchy, but up to the present time the mass of the people seem credulously willing to accept as satisfactory the meager official bulletins given out by the authorities. They welcome eagerly any report which seems half way encouraging.

That anxiety is felt in higher circles, however, is manifested by the long audiences the ministers of the dual monarchy are holding constantly at Schoorbrunn with Emperor Francis Joseph.

Last Saturday the emperor received Count Von Berchtold, minister of foreign affairs, both in the morning and afternoon and there have been also a number of conferences since last Friday with the minister of war and the Austrian and Hungarian premiers. Newspapers of Vienna maintain extraordinary reserve concerning the progress of the campaigns in Galicia, on the Serbian frontier. Papers of Sunday, September 13, barely mentioned the battle that was reported to have been raging around Lemberg for the last six days.

Continuing Their Successes

LONDON, Sept. 15.—The Russians are said to be continuing their successes in Galicia and Poland. The armies of General Danik, which had the support of some of the German divisions have been driven back across the frontier which they had crossed while the Russians were advancing on Lemberg, now according to Petrograd reports, in the angle between the rivers San and Vistula, a trap into which the Russian troops have been trying for some days to drive them. Their tanks are supported by the fortresses of Cracow and Przemyśl, Przemyśl being approached by the Russian army which captured Lemberg and which will now operate against the right wing of Generals Danik and Von Aufsenburg. Meanwhile the Russian army is free to move west toward Thorn, Prussia, a town of some twenty-seven thousand inhabitants on the right bank of the Vistula, near Bromberg. General Rennenkampf can look for reinforcements for his army, which had to fall back with the German advance in East Prussia.

Report to French Embassy WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—A Bordeaux foreign dispatch to the French embassy here, says:

"On the thirteenth our offensive movement has continued on the whole front. Mont Didier and Rose, on our left wing, have been occupied with French cavalry; at Amiens, the German forces are retiring towards St. Quentin and Peronne. These forces were defensively arranged yesterday to the east of Rheims on the line of the old forts Nogent, L'Aube, and Vitry Brument.

The prisoners of one of our armies were established today in the city of Rheims. German troops were in Argençon yesterday north of the line of Trancourt and Isseyourt, having abandoned the attack on Port Troyon (river Meuse). Yesterday evening French Lorraine had been completely evacuated by the Germans, who are withdrawing toward Saarburg, Dieuzer and Chateau Salins. In Galicia fighting the last ten days ended with great victory for the Russians. Hundreds of runs and thirty thousand prisoners, including two hundred officers, were taken from the eighth to the tenth."

The passing of the Republic Iron and Steel company's preferred dividend for the current quarter because of the financial situation due to the general state of that industry and the dividend state of other companies in the same line of manufacture. According to conservative estimates the mills at leading centers are now operating at sixty per cent capacity and it is believed that many will be reduced to a fifty per cent basis by October. An echo of the Mexican situation was heard in the confirmation of the report that the government now in power

House Restores to Bill Section Cut Out by the Senate

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—Conferees of the Clayton anti-trust bill today considered restoring the section of the House bill prohibiting the price discrimination, which the Senate struck from the measure. Several members of the committee to-night said the section would be restored tomorrow.

That provision makes it a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not to exceed $5,000 or imprisonment not to exceed one year for persons engaged in commerce directly or indirectly to discriminate in prices between purchasers of commodities.
